Treasurer’s report:

There is $2400 in the gaming account. There is also $319.00 in the other PAC account.

Principal’s Report:

Friday the 24th was parent-teacher interviews.

Kitchen renovations will start in February 2018. Foods 10, 11 and Culinary Arts 12 will be offered.

Lockdown drill was held on December 14th. We would enact this procedure if there was a threat in the school as a measure to protect staff and students.

There were 11 new students registered this month at Glacier View. We are up to 117 students.

Wellness Centre:

Tomorrow there will be a session on depression that will be offered to all school district staff from 3:30-5.

There were photo re-takes on November 5th.

Audit is slated to start and end on January 16th, 2018.

Glacier View contributed a huge box of items for EDAS. Rita Mulligan, one of the EAs at our school handmade a number of fleece scarves and hats.

The Comox Valley RCMP donated a number of gift cards for students at Glacier View.

FESL (framework to enhance student learning):

Growth Mindset: We began this initiative this month.

Attendance: Monthly attendance honour roll was displayed in the front cabinet. The HERO cup was awarded to the class with the best attendance. Murray bought the winning class a pizza lunch.

Christmas school luncheon will be tomorrow at 12:00 in the gym. Staff will serve a traditional turkey dinner for the staff and students to share in the gym. Paul will do some magic tricks to entertain the audience. Some students will also be performing at the luncheon. Some students will be playing piano and others will be singing.

There was a door decorating contest and the winner will be announced tomorrow. The winning class will be awarded sundaes.

We will have Glacier View hoodies again this year. Jen is in the process of gathering quotes to find the best price.

Our volunteer Cassia has continued to help out around the school and she has been very much appreciated. Cassia has been making up coloured attendance sheets for all of the classes. She has also been working with students as a "success mentor". *Note: PAC will look at getting something to thank Cassia for all of her hard work.

Our next PAC meeting will be on January 17th, 2018.

Adjournment: 8:20pm
